9. Exchange Training Camp

IFSC Asian Council and CMA will organize an exchange training camp after the competition, all teams are welcomed to participate, the final routes will be kept on the wall. Details are:

SCHEDULE

August 25, 2025 — Main Activity (Exchange Session)

09:00–12:30 Free Climbing Session

- Re-trial of final routes (Lead and some Boulder problems) at your own pace
- Speed wall available for informal practice
- Includes warm-up and lunch break

You are free to climb at any time during this period

13:00–16:30 Team Exchange Session*

- Lead & Boulder: Mixed international teams, team-based climbing on newly set boulder problems
- Speed: Friendly team relay format using mixed-nationality teams

*Times may be adjusted depending on the number of participants.

16:30–17:00 Group Photo & Flower Ceremony

- Celebration of teams on the podium together with all participant
- Distribution of small participation gifts (souvenirs) to all athletes

17:30–19:30 Gala Dinner & Cultural Exchange Gathering

- Buffet-style or on-site catering provided
- Opportunity for informal networking and cultural sharing

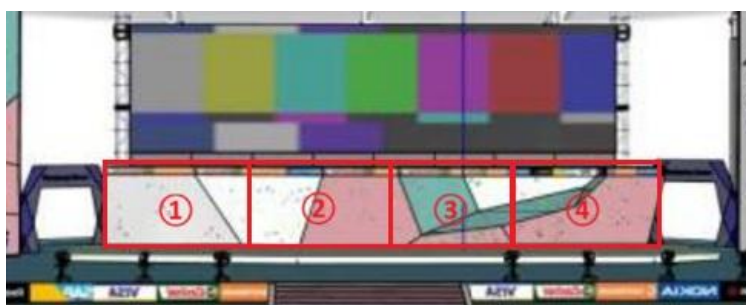

How the Exchange Session Works

1. Team Formation

- Approximately 4-6 members per team (mixed gender, randomly assigned)
 - Adjust team sizes to ensure an equal number of participants
- (If participant numbers are uneven, coaches may join to help balance the teams)

2. Problem Setup

- The boulder wall will be divided into 4 areas.

(The diagram is just an example)

- We will keep as many final problems as possible and add 2 new problems in each area: One easier problem (for female climbers) and One harder problem (for male climbers)
- Teams will move through the areas in rotation, spending about 15-20 minutes in each area (time may change depending on team size).

*You can try any of the problems in your area, including the final problems, but you don't have to attempt them all—choose the ones that match your level.

3. Scoring

- The total points of all team members will determine the winning team.
- * We may adjust the scoring method, such as introducing handicap multipliers based on gender or discipline (e.g., placing two zone holds per problem so participants of different levels can earn points).

How to Participate

- Participation is open to all youth athletes taking part in the Asian Youth Championships.
- Teams will be formed by the organizers (mixed nationality and gender).
- If you wish to join the Exchange Session, please sign up in advance via the designated Google Form.
- The form will be shared in the WhatsApp group for teams.
